The layer is named the active layer. It is essentially a combination of all the layers on the screen and is visible on top of the layer that you apply any type of filter to in the menu bar. Using masks, transparency, and blending modes: The part of the Photoshop interface that is directly related to the concept of transparency is the Masks dialog box. The Masks dialog box is used for working with layers of transparency and masks. Some of the blending modes and transparency features can also be applied to individual layers in the Layers palette. Q: Can I use A$ync /await without await in nodejs Do I need to use async/await keyword in nodeJS like that: async function getAll(time) { let response = await client.query({ tableName : "tbl_e_store_task", filter : [{ column : "TIME", op:"gt", value:time}] }); console.log(response.body.tuple.length) return response.body.tuple.length; } A: Like in other languages, you can use a standard asynchronous method without the async keyword. You just need to return a promise. function getAll(time) { return new Promise(function(resolve,reject){ let response = await client.query({ tableName : "tbl_e_store_task", filter : [{ column : "TIME", op:"gt", value:time}] }); console.log(response.body.tuple.length) resolve(response.
